

FREDERIK MEIJER Gardens & Sculpture Park

March 17, 2020—For the health and well-being of our visitors, volunteers and staff, Frederik Meijer Gardens & Sculpture Park has closed to the public, effective Friday, March 13. Events, classes and camps will be addressed on a case by case basis as soon as we have more information regarding when we can reopen.

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has communicated that one of the most effective measures for controlling the spread of COVID-19 is social distancing. While much of our institution is outdoors, and we have large indoor areas that allow for social distancing, out of an abundance of caution and based on recommendations from the CDC and the State of Michigan, we are temporarily closing to all public visitors until at least April 5, 2020. We need to do our part to help with this pandemic.

We will continue to monitor the situation and provide updates based on recommendations from the CDC and the State of Michigan.

We are acutely aware that we are an oasis of joy providing a much-needed place of well-being to our members and guests. We will open again as soon as we are safely able to do so. In the meantime, please tune in daily to our Facebook page (@MeijerGardens) where we will be hosting live Virtual Visits every day at 10 am and 2 pm.

We appreciate your understanding and patience during this rapidly changing situation. Please follow our website, MeijerGardens.org, and social media channels for updates.
